My father's dream spoke to me in a soft fluid voice " You will finish my work " unless you want to follow your own dreams." As soon as I heard him, I saw my father wanted to hug him but then my hands touched each other and he was afraid of me. As I stood there we were my destiny and I wasn't going of going around his waist. I knew if I took ~~the~~ ^{the} road to the ocean I would work day and night to complete it so I let his dreams slip through my hands ~~and~~ ^{but} I would make ^{the} wings, ^{but} I would have As I promised, I made a machine that would make ^{the} birds wings, and was about to get me to the sky. The 1st and 2nd time I fell ~~at~~ ⁱⁿ the ocean and was about to get carried around in the middle of the ocean by the waves, quelling I remembered some tips of swimming that my dad taught so I rapidly swam to the shore and back to my house. The next day I didn't want to fall back in the ocean so I did some swimming. And the 3rd time I ~~tried~~ tried it was marvelous! I was flying! I ~~were~~ ^{was} scared straight to heavens. Once I entered I ~~saw~~ saw my father.
